Special Referendum On U.N.O. in Greenwich

Greenwich, Conn., Feb. 7.—This normally placid Fairfield country town, divided into two factions by its choice as the capital of the United Nations Organization is going to settle the controversy in the old fashioned New England way—by means of a special referendum.

On February 23, the citizens of the sprawling township which includes East Port Chester, Cox Coh, Greenwich and Old Greenwich are going to take a vote on it.

The "it" that they are going to take a vote on is a referendum which reads:

"Do you favor the location of the United Nations Organization in or near the town of Greenwich?"

The decision to have a referendum was made yesterday following a meeting of town representatives Tuesday night at which it was voted 110 to 35 to oppose the location of the U.N.O. capital in the Greenwich area.

Since the meeting, the pros and cons of the question have been argued all over town.

The town tax lists show that 20,143 are eligible to vote.

Truman Snubs In Defending

Washington, Feb. 7.—President Truman said he will not withdraw from the position of defending the administration's policy in the Korean peninsula.

The President said Secretary Harold L. Ickes, who has been in the White House since the Korean peninsula was invaded, but that he did not think this would change his position with Ickes.

He told a news conference that he was backing Mr. Ickes, who he thought was an able and very capable man who did a magnificent job of running the administration.

Ickes can very well as well as the rest of the man added.

again might be necessary late in the year.

President Truman, in a statement declaring the world faces a food crisis which may be "the worst in modern times," yesterday ordered government agencies to draft emergency rules to cut consumption of wheat at home so that "mass starvation" abroad may be averted.

The cuts in American consumption will take these forms:

Millers will be required to convert a larger portion of each bushel of wheat into flour. This flour will be dark in color, less tasty and less suitable for cakes, pastries and other pastries. But it will take fewer bushels of wheat to meet American bread and pastry needs.

No Wheat For Brews
The use of wheat in making whiskey and beer will be forbidden. Also the use of other grains for these beverages will be reduced. There was no immediate indication what effect this will have on current supplies.

Farmers will be asked to feed less wheat and other grains to livestock. Mr. Truman directed the Agriculture Department to develop programs designed to pare down livestock production until grain supplies become plentiful again.

The presidential action was made necessary largely by the fact that Americans—and American livestock—have eaten more wheat since the last harvest than the government had planned. This fact did not become known until recently.

Vote Is 451 to 259
The men voted 451 to 259 yesterday not to return to work.

Capt. William Bradley, president of the I.L.A.'s Marine Division, however, late yesterday voiced opposition to the plan to use Army and Navy ships.

"There has been too much interference already," he said. "We would like to straighten it out ourselves. I think the men feel that too much pressure is being put on them."

Other union leaders said that the

School Strike Ends

St. Louis, Feb. 7.—A holiday for school children was over today with the settlement of a three-day strike of about 400 custodians and matrons which had closed 100 of the 129 public schools here.

Settlement of the strike was announced last night by a committee of the Board of Education and leaders of the A.F.L. Custodians and Matrons' Union. Dr. Herbert G. Winterer, board president, issued a statement, concurred in by union officials, that the strikers would go back to work today with the promise the board would open immediate negotiations on a $20 monthly wage increase demand.

Truman May Ration Meat to Help Abroad, Thinks He Has Formula for Steel Settlement; Tug Strike Brings Dimout, Fuel Rationing

Emergency Measures Are Drastic

O'Dwyer Orders a State of Emergency as Men Won't Resume Jobs Despite Seizure

Schools to Close

May Use Buildings as Hospitals to Care for Pneumonia Cases

New York, Feb. 7 (AP)—New York city today took drastic action—exceeding that imposed in wartime—to meet an acute fuel shortage caused by the four-day strike of tugboat operators in the city's vast harbor.

Mayor William O'Dwyer proclaimed a state of emergency late yesterday, after tugmen voted against returning to work despite federal seizure of the tugboat industry, and ordered:

All public schools shut down tomorrow until further notice.

Possible use of school buildings for hospital purposes to handle an increasing number of pneumonia cases due to lack of fuel.

Possible use of schools to house thousands of cold-water flat dwellers suffering from lack of fuel.

His Amusement Places
No deliveries of coal or oil to places of amusement, including theatres, motion picture houses and night clubs.

Strict rationing of fuel to public utilities, hospitals and other institutions.

Interior temperatures cut to 60 degrees and no heat in subways and street cars.

A drastic "brownout" shutting off all outdoor signs and dimming street lights where possible.

Unions Will Vote
Representatives of the union, employees and the city announced early today after an all-night meeting that they had reached a proposal for settlement of the dispute which would be submitted to a referendum meeting of the union tomorrow.

Details of the proposals were not disclosed.

At the end of the conference, Edward C. Maguire, labor adviser to Mayor O'Dwyer, said in a statement:

"The union and employers met and as a result of deliberations a proposal was arrived at which the union negotiating committee is prepared to recommend to its members at a referendum meeting between 8 a. m. and 4 p. m. Friday."

Schools as Hospitals
O'Dwyer, declaring the strike had cut the city off from 65 per cent of its coal supply and 95 per cent of its fuel oil supply, also ordered all schools closed tomorrow and held in readiness for possible use as hospitals for pneumonia cases resulting from lack of heat. The schools will be closed for at least five days.

The new measures, which also

Banks Have Plan To Help Housing In Rochester City

Rochester, N. Y., Feb. 7 (AP)—Rochester's banks plan a non-profit organization designed to alleviate the housing shortage through the financing of low-rent, permanent homes.

Eight commercial banks and a savings institution will participate in the plan, announced yesterday by Elmer E. Millman, president of the Central Trust Company and chairman of the Joint Bank Commission.

The plan is to build a "substantial number" of homes by local contractors using local labor.

He asserted the project would be operated as a "civic endeavor" with no profit to participating institutions.

French Official Wants Area Decision Held Up

Russia, China in Favor of Greenwich Site; Criticism of New York Made

By HELEN CAMP

London, Feb. 7 (AP)—Russia and China expressed their approval today of the Stamford-Greenwich-Westchester area of Connecticut and New York as permanent headquarters of the United Nations, but France asked a long delay and a reconsideration of New York city as the interim site.

French Representative J. Fougere said, in a continuing line of last night's debate in the Permanent Headquarters Committee, that the decision should be postponed until September, 1947.

"Huge foreign colonies in New York city and the fact that it is the biggest city in the United States might present problems if it were the interim site," Dupure said.

"New York has a huge Jewish colony. Suppose the Palestine question came up. Do you really think we could debate it in law and order?" Do you think a question involving the United States could be discussed calmly and peacefully in the biggest city in the United States?

Discussing complaints from citizens in the area recommended as headquarters, he said he wondered "whether we are doing our part in the United Nations is creating

Settlement Now Looks Imminent

Wage Plan Is Right One Country Needs Today

President Tells News Men at Conference

Windup Soon

Can Be Worked Out in Few Days to Bring Back Production

Washington, Feb. 7 (AP)—President Truman said today he hoped to have a formula ready in a day or two to halt the steel and other big strikes.

Responding to questions at a news conference, the President said the formula under consideration is not a completely new wage-price plan, but rather one for meeting the situation the nation is faced with now.

He added he believed it can be worked out in the next few days.

Asked by a reporter if it is a "big steel formula," Mr. Truman said he had not heard of that.

The President said the whole question is one of production. All the people are aware, he added, of the need for production.

If we get mass production now, he said, the situation will adjust itself. There will be no reason for a new wage-price formula then, he stated.

He said this (mass) production aim was what the administration had laid down from the start.

Since the war ended, he said, the administration has called for all-out production, to meet the demand that had been piling up. He added the administration's first wage-price formula (of last fall) would have worked if we had got the production we hoped we were going to get.

To Confer With Murray
Mr. Truman will confer at 3:30 p. m. (E.S.T.) today with Philip Murray, president of the C.I.O. and the Steelworkers Union.

The unsettled labor situation will not prevent his departure Monday for a ten-day vacation in Florida and nearby waters, the President asserted. He said he can still do business by telephone from his yacht, the Williamsburg.

He made this assertion when asked if he still planned to go to Florida if the steel and electric strikes were not settled in advance of his scheduled departure.

Must Read Plan First
Top men of both the C.I.O. and A.F.L. said today they must see the government's new wage-price declaration before they can commit their striking unionists to accept it.

As announcement of the relaxed hold-the-line policy ran into still further delay, C.I.O. President Philip Murray and A.F.L. Chief William Green told a reporter in separate interviews they had not been consulted by the administration. Hence, they added, they can make no pledges for their members.

Murray at the same time declined any comment on reports that he has been meeting privately with steel executives in an effort to arrive at some basis for settling

32 Unaccounted For in Shipwreck Of Liner Yukon

Discrepancies in Ship's List Are Checked; 465 Persons Are Saved by Rescuers

Ketchikan, Alaska, Feb. 7 (AP)—Thirty-two persons were accounted for when rescue vessels brought to Seward the last known load of survivors from the wrecked liner Yukon last night, and today the crew and passenger lists were being checked and rechecked to learn the names of the missing.

All Seward watched the sea for signs of any straggling small craft which might come in with some or all of the 32.

The rescuers had found no bodies and had removed the last of the Yukon's crew and passengers from the grounded, broken vessel and from the nearby shore. When the mercy craft unloaded their last group of survivors at Seward and a count was made the Coast Guard said 465 had been carried to safety. The passengers, according to lists announced by the Alaska Steamship Company and the Army, numbered 497.

Yukon Is Abandoned
The Coast Guard report from Seward said it was not known as yet whether all the crewmen and passengers listed actually had been aboard when the Yukon sailed Sunday night from Seward, seven hours before she ran aground on the storm beaten rocks in Johnstone Bay.

The cutter Onondaga, its crew dead tired after more than 48 hours of battle with the sea and snow and wind, messaged late yesterday that all survivors had been rescued and the Yukon abandoned. There had been reports from rescued passengers and crewmen that casualties had been seen, but none of these could be verified.

Three crewmen pulled from the water by a tug after the Yukon broke in two Monday night said they thought several were lost, one man estimating the number at 20 or more. One passenger said he had been told three bodies were recovered.

Suspects Snarl Radio
New York, Feb. 7 (AP)—International radio and cable communications were seriously interrupted for several hours today by the effects of two large spots which have appeared on the upper right edge of the sun. Existence of the spots was reported by the Hayden Planetarium Friday.

The Hayden Planetarium and Telegraph Company reported that magnetic currents arising from the sun spots had "practically stopped" its radio communications in Europe and South America.

James L. Rowe New C. of C. President

Uptown Shoe Dealer Is Unanimously Elected;

Other Officers of Group Chosen

James L. Rowe, shoe merchant of John street, was unanimously elected president of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce Wednesday evening by the newly elected board of directors.

Mr. Rowe has been identified with the business and civic interests of this city for many years and has served as president of the Uptown Business Men's Association.

Recent activities in which the new president took the leading role included the campaign for securing ferry service between Rhinecliff and Kingston. Ferry service will be resumed in the spring.

The location of the State Department of Commerce regional office in this city was another project in which Mr. Rowe was successful as chairman of the committee.

Mr. Rowe has been serving the people of this area as a shoe merchant for the past 41 years. For 11 years he was connected with Charles Wood and for 17 years with Rose and Gorman. In 1933 he established his own business at 34 John street.

President Rowe is a member of Kingston Rotary Club, Kingston Lodge, No. 10, F. and A. M., and Commercial Travelers. He is also president of Kenosha Lake Club and a trustee of the Albany Baptist Church. For 12 years he was a member of the Board of Supervisors.

Other officers elected were: First vice president, Harry Rigby; second vice president, Harry Kaplan; third vice president, Byron Chatham.

Oscar Lawatsch was elected treasurer and Past President Reina being named national councillor.

The State of New York National Bank was selected as the depository bank for the Chamber of Commerce funds for the next fiscal year.

A resolution was spread upon the minutes which expressed the profound appreciation of the Chamber of Commerce for the untiring efforts of President Reina.

Mr. Reina thanked the members for their wholehearted support and urged all to get behind the newly elected officers this coming year.

Announcement was made that the annual meeting and banquet of the Chamber of Commerce will be held Monday evening, March 4. The main speaker will be former Governor Howard Hoffman of New Jersey.

Arabs Strike Again
Beyrouth, Feb. 7 (AP)—Arabs staged a general strike throughout Lebanon today, in protest against the British decision to permit 1,500 Jewish immigrants to enter Palestine monthly.

Strikes at a Glance
(By The Associated Press)

Continuing labor disputes keep idle 1,445,000 workers.

Major developments:

Shipping—State of emergency declared in New York city as measures aimed to conserve fuel placed in effect due to shortage of coal, oil and feed supplies resulting from strike of 3,500 A.F.L. tugmen; Army and Navy to man tugboats in harbor after strikers refuse to work in federally seized industry; proposal for settlement of wage-hour dispute reached, to be submitted to referendum meeting of union tomorrow.

Railroads—Two pickets slain, three others wounded in shooting on strike-bound Toledo, Peoria and Western Railroad; road president requests state militia.

Schools—Three-day strike of about 400 custodians and matrons in St. Louis public schools, which resulted in closing 100 of the city's 120 schools keeping 60,000 students from classes, ends; school board promises to open negotiations on $20 monthly wage increase demand.

America Obligated To Help

U. S. Should Make Move to Keep 15,000,000 From Starvation in Overseas Lands

Hopes Against It

Wheat Conservation Is Ordered to Furnish 6,000 Tons Abroad

Washington, Feb. 7 (AP)—President Truman said today he would call for a return to meat rationing if it becomes necessary to prevent 10 to 15 million people from starving to death.

The President told his news conference that he thought it would not be necessary to ration meat, that he hoped not.

If, however, it becomes necessary to keep from 10,000,000 to 15,000,000 people abroad from starving, he continued, he thought the country ought to do it.

He explained that he was vitally concerned with the prospect of widespread starvation in war-torn countries, accentuated by losses of wheat crops in some countries and other grains elsewhere.

He hopes, he said, that his wheat conservation order yesterday may make it possible to ship 6,000,000 tons of wheat abroad during the first six months of this year.

Not to Blame
Friends and allies during the war, he said, are not to blame for their desperate situation. It would be un-American, he added, to permit people in enemy countries to starve.

Canada, Australia and other countries with food surpluses are being asked to cooperate, he said, adding he was confident that the American people will cooperate fully by buying less.

In no event, he said in response to a question, will the people of enemy countries be allowed a richer diet than those of allied countries.

What this country is trying to do, he said, is take care of its allies first.

Asked whether there was any hoarding of wheat in this country, he said he was not familiar with it if there was.

May Eat Better
Although Americans have been asked to share their bread with the starving people overseas, they may actually eat better than before, for a time.

Their own bread will be dark, and they may find less whiskey and beer, but there should be a temporary jump in pork, beef, poultry, eggs and some dairy products.

How long this richer diet may last hinges on the weather—spring and summer rains and fall frosts. For a bad crop season could whittle down supplies of animal products to a point where rationing

3 Cars Damaged On Icy Highways In Ulster County

No Serious Injuries Are Reported in Cracks Near Cementon and Glenerie Hill

Icy conditions of county highways Wednesday accounted for two fairly serious accidents and a number of minor ones, and immobilized traffic considerably according to a report of the State Police.

The first accident occurred during a sanding operation at Cementon, when a car operated by Harry Fisher, of Belleville, N. J., skidded on a curve as it approached a sanding truck driven by William Ahrens, Fisher and William Bankauf, of East Paterson, N. J., a passenger, were both slightly injured and taken to the Kingston Hospital for treatment. State Police investigated the accident.

Accident on 9-W
A second accident occurred on Route 9-W, north of Kingston, about 3 o'clock, when two cars came together near the top of the Glenerie hill. Single passengers in each car were injured. Ice on the pavement caused the cars of Augustine Daly, 57, of 773 Boulevard East, Weehawken, N. J., and Charles Franke, 54, of Spring Valley, N. Y., to collide. State Police from the Lake Katonah barracks report that the Franke car coming south skidded on the ice and crossed over to the path of the Daly car which was traveling north. Daly suffered an abrasion of the left knee, while Franke had lacerations of the scalp, minor abrasions about the face and head and also suffered from shock. Franke was brought to the Kingston Hospital by the W. N. Conner Ambulance Service for treatment. Both cars were considerably damaged.

Rain later in the afternoon cleared up most of the ice and travel was comparatively easy by evening on county roads. Sanding operations were carried out throughout the day.

Commies Score Browder
New York, Feb. 7 (AP)—Earl Browder, former head of the Communist party in America, was charged today by the organization's national board with destruction of "Communist duties and responsibilities" and threatened with expulsion from party ranks.

The national board announced tonight that it would recommend the expulsion at the party's national committee meeting here next Tuesday.

49,600 Garments Contributed for Overseas Relief

Chairman Raymond H. Rignall of the Victory Clothing Collection for overseas relief announced today that a total of 49,600 garments was contributed in the campaign held in the city of Kingston from January 7 to 31 inclusive.

The quota for Kingston was 28,000 garments.

The grammar schools of the city were the headquarters and the school children brought in the large volume of clothing for the victims of Nazi and Jap oppression in Europe, the Philippines and the Far East.

The garments are being packed and will be shipped immediately.

Chairman Rignall expressed the heartfelt appreciation to all who generously responded to this most worthy cause.

Sinclair Against Anglo-American Petroleum Pact

Notwithstanding its endorsement by some public officials and individuals and two organizations connected with the petroleum industry, the revived Anglo-American Petroleum Agreement, in my opinion, is not in the national interest or in the interest of the petroleum industry, except perhaps some few companies having extensive foreign oil holdings. The treaty now pending before the Senate is subject to many of the same objections voiced against the original petroleum agreement of August 8, 1919, between the same parties, which ultimately led to its withdrawal from the Senate.

If the purposes of the treaty are effectuated, I believe it will mean the opening of our shores to a flood of foreign oil; it will be disastrous in its effects on the large independent section of the oil industry; it will bring us in competition with cheaply-produced foreign oil and will have harmful results

Salary Raises For Teachers Are Proposed in Bill

Noonan Wants Advances in Effect by July 1, 1948; Two Annual Installments

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 7 (AP)—Raises of $500 in salary standards of teachers and supervisors in city schools and in union free school districts authorized to have superintendents are proposed by Assemblyman Leo P. Noonan, Cattaraugus Republican.

Noonan, a member of the Assembly Committee on Public Education, introduced bills yesterday to effect the advances by July 1, 1948, one bill covered cities of between 50,000 and 150,000 persons, the other cities of less than 50,000 and union free school districts.

Meanwhile, Senator Samuel L. Greenberg, Manhattan Democrat, and Assemblyman Bernard Austin, Brooklyn Democrat, said they would introduce a bill establishing a 65 cents an hour minimum wage law for the state.

A bill to set a 55 cents an hour minimum already has been introduced by Assemblyman Orlo M. Brees, Endicott Republican. The state has no hourly minimums at present.

Noonan's proposal would require boards of education to file new salary schedules with the education department by June 13. Raises of less than $500 could be given to employees who make $3,800 or more to bring their salaries up to $4,200. Persons scaled at $4,200 or more would not receive the increment.

The advances would be effected in two equal annual installments but, in any event, would be completed by July 1, 1948. Present increment provisions, in both number and amount, would be unaffected.

Dewey Suggests State Buy New York Building

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 7 (AP)—Governor Dewey submitted to the Legislature today a proposal that the state buy a 28-story building in New York city, at a cost of $3,734,000, to provide centralized office space for state agencies now scattered in 27 buildings throughout the city.

Successful negotiations for acquisition of the building, situated at 270 Broadway, from the 270 Broadway Corporation, have been conducted by the State Commission on Building and Development, the governor informed the Legislature. The purchase price is the same as the assessed valuation.

Dewey told the Legislature the state would require 95,000 square feet of office space in New York city by April 30. It is planned to take over the building May 1.

To Attend Meeting
Abram H. Lipgar, commander of the Hudson Valley Counties Council, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will attend the activation ceremonies of a new V.F.W. post in Wappingers Falls, Monday, February 18. Mayor William O'Dwyer, of New York and ex-Mayor LaGuardia are among the notables scheduled to speak.

North Carolina and Washington have legislation against the marriage of tubercular persons.

for American labor as well as American capital. If the proposed treaty is merely a gesture and no serious effort is to be made to carry out its stated purposes, then of course there is no good reason for its existence. When and if we need foreign oil we shall be able to get it without this or any treaty.

The assertion that no provision in the agreement is applicable to our domestic petroleum operations is sheer misrepresentation. Under subdivision (c) of Article II, the proposed treaty would obligate Congress to enact legislation to regulate and control the domestic petroleum industry within the United States, as a means of directing its efforts generally to further the purposes of the agreement. It would prevent any action by states, state regulatory bodies or citizens in connection with the exploration for and development of petroleum resources, the construction and operation of refineries and other facilities, and the distribution of petroleum—when ever such action might be deemed to hamper or restrict, or to be inconsistent with, the purposes of the agreement.

Subdivision (b) of Article II of the agreement would in my opinion require repeal or modification of the Federal Leasing Act so as to grant aliens equal rights with citizens of the United States in the exploration and development of our public lands.

The World Today

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP World Traveler

Brussels, Feb. 7.—Little Belgium is one of the earliest of the countries to show signs of recovery among those which were trampled under the hob-nails of Hitler's soldiery.

This is one of the happy findings of the globe-trotting team of Mack and Mack, if we can use the word "happy."

In connection with any of the shell-shocked nations of Europe, of course, "happy" is a relative term. I remember how "happy" I was on learning by tough experience that I could take gas in a dentist's chair without suffocation.

A Titanic Task
You won't, I am sure, allow our happiness to give you the wrong slant. We must recognize that Belgium still is having a fierce battle with the economic elements, although there's a rainbow in the sky. Full recovery is a titanic task at best.

Anyway, it's good to be able to report that this country has its chin up and is getting ahead with the job. You wouldn't expect such a quick development in view of the fact that Belgium's economy has been so closely interlocked with the welfare of its neighbors, especially Germany and France, both of which are up to their necks in the slough of economic ills.

Enough Food
Belgium on the whole has a plentiful diet, and food is plentiful enough so that there are few if any beggars—an excellent sign. There is no unemployment excepting where bomb damage has affected such skilled trades as the diamond cutting of Antwerp the glass blowing of Liege and the lace making of Bruges. Indeed, domestic help is so scarce that in Brussels as many as three families are sharing one maid.

Wages are, at rough estimate, some 300 per cent above the pre-war scale. This gain is more than offset, however, by an increase of between 400 and 500 percent (estimated) in the cost of living.

Some Shortages
While the price of food is high, it's said to be plentiful enough so that, with the exception of meat, sugar and fats, rationing could be abolished. Meat runs about 65 cents to 85 cents per pound at the official rate, and is about three times as high on the black market. Bread however is only about nine cents for a two-pound loaf, and there are good supplies of fish and fruit.

Textiles are about three or four times prewar costs, but are fairly plentiful and the prices are coming down. Shoes are three times prewar level.

Coal Is Scarce
One of the most serious deficiencies has been coal, affecting both industry and the home, but the government announces that production has reached the prewar level of 80,000 tons a day.

As would be expected, the black market operators have been fattening on the sufferings of their fellows. However, the government has been giving these sharks such a hot run for their money that they are beginning to disappear and black market prices are falling.

But the black market operators are dying hard. Mrs. Mack and I saw an amazing demonstration of their tenacity in the Rue Des Radis—the black market street—where dozens of dealers hawk their wares openly from the sidewalks and roadway. Both men and women engage in this illicit trade, and they carry their wares on their arms or in their pockets, so that they can make a quick getaway when the police raid them.

American, British Goods
When we were there this street was jammed. Much of the stuff on sale was American and British army stocks—obviously acquired illegally—and the military police of both armies frequently pounce on the Rue Des Radis.

Men's cotton underwear, which was hard to find in New York when your correspondent left there at the end of November, was selling on this black market for three dollars. American cigarettes, which cost about 50 cents for a carton of ten packages in army stores, were to be had at one $1.10 per package.

You could even buy penicillin. In fact, we were told that one could purchase a jeep for $1,000 or even buy a 2½ ton army truck through these dealers. The machines obviously would be stolen.

However, these racketeers are on their way out, for they thrive only on hard times.

Relief Flour Sold
White flour distributed in China by U.N.R.R.A. for relief, is finding its way into the open market in Chingwangtso and Tientsin. U. S. Marines in North China report. Relief authorities are reported to concede that flour is being sold but say it is all right—the Chinese do not like white flour and sell it to buy necessities more to their taste.

A JOB WELL DONE

The filing of detailed information on the proposed site at Ulster Park with the General Assembly of the United Nations Organization in London by the U. N. O. Site Committee closes a notable chapter in the annals of Ulster County, the Town of Esopus, Ulster Park and the City of Kingston.

The Kingston Committee, which put forth the bid to have the permanent global peace home locate in Ulster Park, left nothing undone. Every requirement, including the services of a Navy blimp, was met.

One result of the work of the committee, for which the members may feel proud, was the very favorable publicity this area received. The advantages of this area together with its scenic grandeur was publicized throughout the country. This kind of publicity is what an enterprising community needs. The favorable publicity received is a tribute to both the local committee and the community.

Long after other communities had submitted their bids, the Kingston Committee with the support of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce and the Ulster County Board of Supervisors presented in record time a brochure which described the proposed site at Ulster Park and the surrounding area. This was followed by the presentation of a prospectus, an album of photos in natural colors and a movie reel of the area.

In a region where the resort business is the largest enterprise, this very favorable publicity is priceless. The value of it to the region will become manifest in the years that lie ahead.

Arthur Vandenberg, one of the nine delegates who represent the United States at the U. N. O. conference, has taken up the Ulster Park site with other members of the committee. Congressman LeFevre communicated with the representative following the report of the findings by the site committee.

Since the Ulster Park site met all the requirements, it was felt that the General Assembly should be directed to the information filed.

George E. Yerry, Jr., general chairman, and Major Albert E. Milliken, architect, shouldered the burden of work in supplying the information requested by the foreign representatives on their visits. Their untiring efforts are appreciated.

During the course of the publicity in the leading newspapers of the country, some opposition developed here to the movement, but generally it was supported.

The interim committee, comprised of thirteen member nations, has approved the Stamford-Greenwich-Westchester area but the final decision has not been made by the General Assembly.

While awaiting the outcome, it now can be told that the work of the local committee was well done.

Man, in discovering the principles of atomic energy, has unlocked only one of nature's secret chambers, and as he proceeds to open the others the world will be further startled and changed. So spoke Dr. David Sarnoff, president of the Radio Corp. of America. Scientists believe this new atomic knowledge may supersede radio altogether by utilizing now unknown forces, and permit mind to communicate with mind without any physical equipment.

In this connection Prof. Joseph B. Rhine, who has been experimenting for years at Duke University in telepathy and allied phenomena, says with the new atomic discoveries "we may now earnestly begin to search for the intangible nature of man" heretofore a closed realm. Man's mind and body, the professor says, are both rooted in a common system, a subconscious substratum. This is now open to scientific research and exploration, though the method to be used is still a mystery.

When scientists break into this secret the body-and-soul problem that has plagued philosophers through the ages may be solved, and much recorded thought will have to be changed, including psychological theories. If

'These Days'

By George E. Sokolsky

THE LAND THAT IS OURS

Who can give the United States away? Who can give any part of it away? Who has the authority to deed it to another country or any group of countries? The Constitution of the United States says nothing on the subject.

Yet, the fact is that the U.N.O. wants to take 42 square miles out of the United States to make it a separate and distinct country, a foreign settlement, an extraterritorial area governed by foreigners and not subject to the laws of this country. Who has the right to authorize the seizure of American land in the states of Connecticut and New York?

Judge John Bassett Moore, America's greatest authority on international relations, defines extraterritoriality thus:
"Owing to diversities in law, custom, and social habits, the citizens and subjects of nations possessing European civilization enjoy in countries of non-European civilization, chiefly in the East, an extensive exemption from the operation of the local law. This exemption is termed 'extraterritoriality'."

Of course, the actual premises of embassies and such buildings are acknowledged as extraterritorial by mutual consent and common practice. But 42 square miles is not a building nor can one regard 1,500 persons and their families and hired help as ambassadors. All these people will live in America; none will live under American law. As Judge Moore says:

"Under this system jurisdiction is exercised by foreign officials, most frequently the diplomatic and consular officers, over persons of their own nationality."

In the past, extraterritoriality has existed in Borneo, China, Japan, Korea, Madagascar, Muscat, Morocco, Persia, Samoan Islands, Siam, Tripoli, Tunis, Turkey, and Pacific Islands. Under this system, if an American were kidnapped and killed in the U.N.O. 42 square miles, no American court would have jurisdiction unless especially called in for that specific purpose by the U.N.O. authorities. If they so desired, the U.N.O. would have the right to set up their own police force or maintain their own army in Connecticut.

I lived under extraterritoriality for 13 years. I have, in my own house, in Shanghai, given refuge to men who are today prominent in the Chungking government but who could not be arrested by their own government because they were in my house, which was extraterritorial.

Once, at a dinner party in the French Concession in Shanghai, Chiang Kai-Shek had been loosely discussed. Chiang wanted to arrest some of those present. One, who afterwards became Chiang's Minister of Foreign Affairs, hid in my house. Chiang knew where he was but he also knew that no warrant would serve as my house was extraterritorial. The writ of the country did not count.

The American Minister to Siam, Mr. King, in the course of a note, maintained "... that the provision in the British treaty that British subjects, their persons, homes, premises, lands, ships, or property of any kind shall not be seized, injured, or in any way interfered with by the Siamese," applied equally to United States citizens under the most-favored-nation clause, and that the entire jurisdiction over the interests of the United States in Siam belonged exclusively to the consulate-general of the United States."

And we all lived that way. We were little kings in our own rights. The government of the country where we were situated had no authority over us, no civil, no criminal jurisdiction of any kind. And we had to do was to keep out of the friendly American Court in Shanghai. I have seen Chinese abused and humiliated in their own country because extraterritoriality made the foreigner, the alien, a king in another's land.

What law will obtain in this 42 square mile legal enclave in Connecticut? Will it be English Common Law, the Code Napoleon of the French, or the barbaric police jurisdiction of Soviet Russia?

We are letting ourselves in for a lot of trouble. There is no reason why U.N.O. requires 42 square miles of extraterritorial territory. There is no reason why the wives and children, the stenographers and personal servants of all the delegates should enjoy special privileges and exemptions where, under all circumstances, and let him who signs away an inch of it be cursed a traitor. SKIN AFFLICTIONS

During World War I there was an epidemic of scarlet fever in one military camp, consequently when one of the padres reported a skin discoloration, slightly red, he was transferred to the base hospital. As the eruption disappeared over night he appealed to me as senior medical officer to be allowed to return to his unit. An examination by his ward physician and examination of his chart showed no sore throat, no temperature, no skin discoloration. He then told us he had taken a couple of headache tablets the day the eruption occurred. He was allergic to the substance or one of the substances in the tablets. I am mentioning this because so often a discoloration or rash on the skin is enough for the patient to start looking for treatment or applying treatment himself.

In Medical Clinics of North America, Dr. John G. Downing, Professor of Dermatology and Syphilology, Tufts College Medical School, Boston, says: "Unfortunately the slightest eruption on the skin seems to call for immediate action even though there be no pain or itching. Advice is sought and freely given by the relative, neighbor or friend. The original eruption, a passing redness of the skin or a cancer, is no longer recognizable. When the patient reaches the dermatologist (skin specialist) due to over-treatment."

What then should be done while waiting to find cause or type of skin ailment present in order to ease pain or relieve itching?

While certain pain killing drugs, and drugs which relieve severe itching are necessary in extreme cases Dr. Downing states that if these drugs are not available he could still relieve a good percentage of his patients with salt, vinegar, boric acid, corn starch, water, and petrolatum.

Dr. Downing outlines simple safe home treatment for various skin ailments but emphasizes the ill effects of over-treatment of skin ailments, many of which will run their own course and the only treatment necessary in the beginning, is care and cleanliness.

Acne - Pimples

Acne (pimples) is one of the most distressing and embarrassing of ailments. Send today for Dr. Barton's helpful booklet on this subject entitled "Acne - Pimples," enclosing ten cents and a three cent stamp to cover cost of handling and mailing to The Bell Library, in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, Post Office Box 29, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Minds may communicate with minds in this world, is it too much to venture that souls may reach other souls—of the living and of the dead? The time has come when man had better not scoff at any possibility. The discovery of atomic energy seems to have given the world much more than a bomb.

"At Century's Turn"

By H. L. VAN DEUSEN

Kingston's first zoning law was adopted by the Common Council at a meeting held on February 3, 1925. The law had been drafted by Corporation Counsel James Jenkins, from a tentative zoning ordinance prepared by Alderman Urban C. Edinger of the Ninth ward, known as the father of the zoning law in the city.

Alderman Edinger, while serving as chairman of the zoning committee of the Common Council, had obtained copies of zoning laws adopted by some 40 other cities in the country, and from them he had taken what he considered best, placing it in the tentative ordinance he prepared.

The ordinance as adopted provided that the mayor appoint a Board of Appeals which was to hold meetings, open to the public, at least once a month.

The ordinance adopted in 1925 is still in effect, although many changes have been added to it.

One of the best known instructors in stenography in Kingston in the years at the turn of the century was Miss Elizabeth Doty, who died suddenly in her home on Washington avenue on January 31, 1925.

Miss Doty, who had been a resident of the city for a quarter of a century, for some years was instructor in Spencer's Business School, and when the Moran Business School was started she became a member of the faculty of the new school, a post she held until her death.

Turning to amateur theatricals for a minute, the playlet "Listen Ladies," was given in Epworth Hall on Clinton avenue, on February 2, 1925.

Among those appearing in the cast were Mrs. K. E. Wright, Mrs. E. B. Schepmoes, Mrs. George Miller, Mrs. H. O. Ostrander, Mrs. I. Marsh, Mrs. J. Doughty, Mrs. William Beadle, Mrs. E. V. Goff, Mrs. Benjamin Weeks and Mrs. E. H. Harty.

During the evening vocal solos were given by Vernon Miller and violin solos by Robert Wirth.

The new school and parish house of the Immanuel Evangelical Lutheran Church on Livingston street was dedicated with appropriate ceremonies on Sunday, February 1, 1925.

The building had cost $47,000 to construct.

The Rev. Frederick T. Schroeder was pastor of the church, and the dedication addresses were delivered by the Rev. F. P. Wilhelm, a former pastor of the church, and the Rev. George F. Schmidt of New York.

Harry Frost, foreman at the U. S. Lumber Mills, was tendered a banquet by the Amalgamated Lumber Operators of Kingston on January 31, 1925, in McCabe's Restaurant on Wall street, on the eve of his departure for England to bring his wife to Kingston.

Among the speakers of the evening were Harry E. Fields, manager of the plant, and Alfred Cooper.

H. S. McDowell on behalf of his fellow workers presented Mr. Frost with a traveling bag, which Ralph Cooper on behalf of the boy operators at the plant, presented him with a fountain pen.

"STOLEN" SPOONS IN SEWER
Some restaurants which charge that guests deplete their silverware stock by thefts may be a bit to blame themselves for the shortage, according to a municipal sewer inspector in East London, South Africa. Recently, he recovered 93 spoons from the city sewer main leading from a hotel.

COLLEGE DANCE IN SPAIN
Fourteen comely Irish girls left Elre recently aboard the mail boat Don Lachaire, bound for Spain to spend six months dancing in Spanish theaters. Led by Connie Ryan, of Dublin, they will be the first foreign dancers to appear in Spain since beginning of the war.

Left Wingers May Be Out to Discredit President Truman and Hamper His Renomination in 1948

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Feb. 7—Has the "left wing" group of radicals who fought the selection of Harry Truman as vice president in 1944 begun a drive to discredit him and prevent his nomination by the Democratic party in 1948? Or does the left wing hope to force Mr. Truman to withdraw from the race?

Political observers might answer the foregoing question in the affirmative today when they see a member of Mr. Truman's own cabinet furnishing "aid and comfort" to the Republican opposition by testifying against the appointment by the President of a man selected eventually to be secretary of the navy.

On the surface it is made to appear that the testimony was elicited from a reluctant witness who simply had to answer the questions of a congressional committee. But it seems passing strange that the President would not be aware of all that one member of his own cabinet knows about a prospective appointee or would not be able to keep harmony in his own political family.

Does it mean that there will be a new secretary of the interior soon and that the present incumbent will shortly become the head of the Political Action Committee with its C.I.O. sponsorship? Does it mean that the P.A.C. is applying this threat while Mr. Truman is under pressure to use his office to help the unions get their 30 per cent demands or as much of it as he can possibly get for them, either through price increases or pressure upon the employers?

The average man will find himself puzzled by these maneuvers and will wonder what real difference there is between the special privileges which Mr. Pauley is alleged to have sought in exchange for campaign contributions—something he vigorously denies—and the open support given by the P.A.C. in the last campaign to the Democratic party nominees through the use of labor union funds in violation of the spirit, if not the letter, of the Federal Corrupt Practices Act?

The ways of politics are devious and Mr. Pauley is now being denounced as not qualified to be undersecretary of the Navy because, while treasurer of the Democratic National Committee, he tried to get some campaign funds from the "big boys" of the west. By the same token, anyone who was mixed up with the political campaigns of the last Democratic administration and got campaign funds for the Democrats from any business men might be held up for questioning. But the Senate did not disapprove of the nomination, as postmaster general, Robert Hannegan, who now is the President's most intimate adviser and who must have had a lot to do with fund-raising in one form or another.

It is, of course, conceivable that Mr. Pauley, because he is an old man, might decide, if he eventually became secretary of the Navy, never to touch the oil-lands problem but might insist that the President assign some other official to handle it.

Public men with previous connections or stock interests that might embarrass them in office have been known to exhibit as much ethics and integrity in such matters as others who never had previous relationships with the world of materialism.

Whether Mr. Pauley will or will not make a good secretary of the Navy depends, first, on whether he is likely to administer fairly the department and also whether he goes in there committed to settle the Navy department and make it a subordinate agency of the already top-heavy and overburdened War Department as recommended, in effect, by the Truman message to Congress. No one seems to have thought to ask Mr. Pauley whether he believes in the proposed submerging of the Navy, if he does, then what's the use of making him as secretary of the Navy for a few months, only to have him pushed out of office by the proposed merger, which calls for a secretary of defense? And certainly Mr. Truman can't be thinking of making Mr. Pauley the big secretary of all armed services.

It is enough to make the Republicans chuckle with delight, as they look toward 1948. What chance for a man of the brain and vision of Harold Stassen to come in as president on the Republican ticket and clean out those special-privilege parasites who seem to have infested the government for the last decade or more and made it a private preserve for the dispensing of personal favors and rewards. The only trouble is that there is also a group of "special privilege parasites" in the Republican party who will do everything in their power to block Stassen in the hope of getting their hands on the government so that they may select a reactionary to take care of their interests in the White House.

Agudas Achim Plans Annual Journal Program

Plans for the "Annual Journal Program" which is to be published in conjunction with the 82nd anniversary dinner and concert of the Agudas Achim, were completed at a meeting of the congregation Tuesday night.

The Journal will feature gold and silver leaf pages, in appreciation of the supporters of the congregation. Plans for the dinner and entertainment were also discussed, and it was decided to have an elaborate dinner in celebration of the world's victory of peace, justice, and righteousness over slavery, brutality and bigotry.

Rabbi Harold Schechter, spiritual leader of the congregation, praised both the Brotherhood and the Sisterhood for the magnificent work that they have done in making the synagogue and its ideals of brotherhood with fellowman regardless of race or creed, an integral part of their daily life.

Joseph Epstein, president of the congregation, expressed his hope and confidence that this year's Journal program, with the cooperation of the entire membership, will be the most successful one yet.

Postwar Plans Group Favors 57 New Buildings

Approves of $15,164,810 Expenditure for State, Other Structures; to Order Plans

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 7 (AP)—Twenty-eight state and 29 municipal building projects to cost $15,164,810 were approved today by the Postwar Public Works Planning Commission.

The commission said its approval of $7,128,200 in state projects meant that it would order plans drawn at once. Governor Dewey's 1946-47 budget, the commission explained, provided for all the state structures endorsed today.

Approval of the municipal projects, to cost $8,036,610, signified that the commission would pay $170,984 of the cost of preparing plans for the buildings, to be constructed entirely by funds from the localities concerned.

Twenty-four of the state projects are buildings proposed by the Mental Hygiene Department. The other four are new state police barracks at Troy and Sidney, $465,000 each; a storehouse at Napanoch for the Correction Department, $175,000, and a telephone ranger camp at Cranberry Lake in the Adirondacks for the Syracuse College of Forestry, $64,200.

Largest new mental hygiene project approved calls for four new buildings at Willard State Hospital, Seneca county, $2,400,000.

Final plans have been drawn for five projects previously approved, the commission said. They are:

Willard State Hospital—Storage facilities and bakery, $573,831.

Wassaic State School—Additions to two infirmary buildings, $350,540.

Allegheny State Park—Construction of 50 cabins with water, electric and sanitary facilities, $51,623.

Lake Erie State Park—20 similar cabins, $24,300.

Rockefeller State Hospital—Building of verandas and fire escapes, $35,068.

The commission also ordered a study of housing needs at state mental institutions to determine whether single or multi-family houses would be more suitable. The Hygiene Department has asked for 62 dwelling units to cost $868,000.

DANGER AHEAD!

Do you, the people of Ulster County, know about the Anti-vivisection Bill which is due to come up before the Legislature in Albany any day—actually any moment now. Many of us have been aware of vivisection but have NOT known that there were people in the country who could or would be opposed to scientific research. It seems a powerful movement has been underway for some time, and petitions have been drawn up to urge our legislators to vote for the passage of this bill. Those working for such a goal have employed any number of innocent sounding phrases. They have appealed to dog lovers with soft words about better treatment of and better life for the "best friend man can have". They have posters depicting a little boy heart-brokenly clutching his pet from the greedy hand about to snatch his dog for revolting and brutal experiment.

There have been very stirring newspaper and magazine articles about the barbarous and inhuman treatment of animals being vivisected. These are deliberate untruths purposely and cleverly presented to arouse the people sufficiently to deluge their Senators and Assemblymen with demands to pass the Anti-vivisection Bill. The purpose of this message is to tell you what the passing of that bill would mean. All of us know that medicine and surgery have made tremendous strides in our lifetime but there is much that remains unfinished. There are any number of operations — once dreaded — that today are performed without terror filling our hearts. — WHY? — Because science has made possible an entire or partial absence of pain due to anaesthesia. The surgeons have learned through research and experience better technique and methods in operating. Most of us have taken medicine of some kind — we all know about penicillin — the sulpha drugs — we know about blood plasma. We accept these gratefully — but have you stopped to think what makes all these possible? There is no medicine that does not have to be tested before it reaches the public. The constant quest for more knowledge of cancer — of infantile paralysis — of tuberculosis — the everlasting desire to help people live better and more useful lives — all this can be done only through study and experimentation — and this is possible just so long as animal life is available for research purposes. You may ask — where the animals come from. Many of the research laboratories breed their mice — rats — guinea pigs — rabbits — dogs. Some canines that have been homeless and consigned to the dog pounds — hence destined to certain death are often sent to the laboratories. Contrary to some beliefs — all the dogs serving the scientists DO NOT DIE. They live comfortably and contentedly in the laboratory kennels. However, I ask you if, in the course of a study helpful to mankind — a dog or dogs become expendable — is it not better that way than to allow our human lives to be sacrificed? — Few of us would sign our own death sentence — but virtually that's what we will be doing if this Anti-vivisection bill is allowed to become a law. Such a law would drastically lower the present high standards of our medical schools — would close our research centers and our laboratories. — In short all progress in the study of sickness and disease would of necessity practically cease. We would be thrown into another Dark Age. Look what has happened in New Jersey. That State has Anti-vivisection laws. Every doctor in New Jersey has received his training outside the State. You know what that means if the same becomes true in the state of New York. Those of us who believe our lives worth fighting for and desire health protection for our families — should write or wire Senator Arthur H. Wicks and Assemblyman John Wadlin in Albany, and do so in a hurry. The busybodies are at their old tricks again, trying to force legislation in the absence of men and women in service — so many of whom have first hand knowledge of the value of Scientific Research.

THEY MUST NOT SUCCEED.
THIS DANGEROUS BILL MUST BE DEFEATED!

Special Referendum On U.N.O. in Greenwich
Greenwich, Conn., Feb. 7 (AP)—This normally placid Fairfield country town, divided into two factions by its choice as the capital of the United Nations Organization is going to settle the controversy in the old fashioned New England way—by means of a special referendum.
On February 23, the citizens of the sprawling township which includes East Port Chester, Cos Cob, Greenwich and Old Greenwich are "going to take a vote on it."
The "it" that they are going to take a vote on is a referendum which reads:
Do you favor the location of the United Nations Organization in or near the town of Greenwich?
The decision to have a referendum was made yesterday following a meeting of town representatives Tuesday night at which it was voted 110 to 50 to oppose the location of the U.N.O. capital in the Greenwich area.
Since the meeting, the pros and cons of the question have been argued all over town.
The town lists show that 20,143 are eligible to vote.

Truman Snubs Ickes In Defending Pauley
Washington, Feb. 7 (AP)—President Truman said flatly today he will not withdraw Edwin W. Pauley's nomination as navy undersecretary.
The President said that Interior Secretary Harold L. Ickes had not consulted him in advance concerning his testimony criticizing Pauley but that he did not believe this would change his relationship with Ickes.
He told a news conference he was backing Mr. Pauley and thought he was an honest man and a very capable administrator who did a magnificent job as reparations administrator.
Ickes can very well be mistaken as well as the rest of us, Mr. Truman added.

America to Help Feed 15,000,000
again might be necessary late in the year.
President Truman, in a statement declaring the world faces a food crisis which may be "the worst in modern times," yesterday ordered government agencies to draft emergency rules to cut consumption of wheat at home so that "mass starvation" abroad may be averted.
The cuts in American consumption will take these forms:
Millers will be required to convert a larger portion of each bushel of wheat into flour. This flour will be dark in color, less tasty and less suitable for cakes, pies and other pastries. But it will take fewer bushels of wheat to meet American bread and pastry needs.
No Wheat For Brews
The use of wheat in making whiskey and beer will be forbidden. Also the use of other grains for these beverages will be restricted. There was no immediate indication what other grains will have on current supplies.
Farmers will be asked to feed less wheat and other grains to livestock. Mr. Truman directed the Agriculture Department to develop programs designed to pare down livestock production until grain supplies become plentiful again.
The presidential action was made necessary largely by the fact that American and American livestock—have eaten more wheat since the last harvest than the government had planned. This fact did not become known until recently, however, when a government survey showed stocks to be 61,000,000 bushels below what they should have been.
Early Marketing
The prospective measures to cut animal consumption of wheat and other grains are expected to result in earlier than normal marketing of hogs, cattle and poultry.
This earlier marketing in turn would make market supplies of meats and poultry larger in the weeks and months immediately ahead than if farmers could follow their present practice of holding animals until they had been fattened.
Depends On Crops
But once the animal numbers have been reduced to the size of the smaller feed supply, market supplies of meats and other animal products will decline. Meat production then can be increased again only after grain supplies have been replenished. And improvement in the domestic feed grain supply cannot come before this year's crops are harvested next fall.
That's where the possibility of future meat rationing enters in. A poor crop season would prevent re-expansion of livestock production until the next good feed crop.
In his statement, Mr. Truman called on stores and other distributors to begin informal rationing of foods that may become scarce. Presumably he referred to bread, flour, bakery products, breakfast cereals and other grain products.

New York City Under Emergency

turned off all electrical outdoor display advertising and ended heating of transportation systems, were even more stringent than the requirements set for the city during the war.
45 Tugs to Move Supplies
Meanwhile, the Office of Defense Transportation, which seized the 91 tugboat companies operating in New York Harbor and contiguous waters early yesterday, ordered 45 Army and Navy tugs to begin moving fuel supplies into the city today.
The action followed a request by Lawrence C. Turner of the Waterways Transport Division of the O.D.T., acting as federal manager of the properties that the Army and Navy man the tugboats.
Approximately 3,500 tugboat workers, members of the A.F.L. International Longshoremen's Association's United Marine Division, struck Monday morning in a wage dispute with the New York Tugboat Exchange.
Vote Is 451 to 259
The men voted 451 to 259 yesterday not to return to work.
Capt. William Bradley, president of the I.L.A.'s Marine Division, however, late yesterday voiced opposition to the plan to use Army and Navy tugs.
"There has been too much interference already," he said. "We would like to straighten it out ourselves. I think the men feel that too much pressure is being put on them."
Other union leaders said that an attempt to operate powered fuel barges might lead to serious accidents.
Turner said the purpose of moving ships with Army and Navy tugs was to try to supply fuel oil and coal to those places greatest in need, placing the tugs where they can do the most good.
O'Dwyer's emergency declaration, made in two proclamations, barred coal deliveries to dance halls, night clubs, theatres and other establishments "not directly related to the public health or safety," and directed that in no event should more than a week's supply of fuel be furnished any consumer.
He also ordered that all interior temperatures be kept no higher than 60 degrees except in buildings devoted to the care of the sick and infirm.

450 at Hercules Are On Five-Day Week

Work at the plant of the Hercules Powder Co. in Port Jervis may be affected by long continuance of the steel strike. It was stated this morning. Much of the output of the plant is blasting caps, extensively used in mining. If the steel plants remain shut down it will mean a drop in their demand for coal, which will mean less work for the miners and consequent lessened demand for blasting caps.

Hercules, which had a war-time employment peak of around 1,300 men and women, is now giving employment to about 450, which is said to be about the normal for peace time. The plant is working five days this week and hopes to maintain that schedule.

The company has made a policy of employing servicemen who formerly were members of the force and so far has given work to returned veterans if they were properly qualified.

Navy Announces Postwar Blueprint For Fleet Strength

Washington, Feb. 7 (AP)—The Navy disclosed today its postwar blueprint for the nation's first line of defense—a fleet of 319 fighting ships fit "for instant action" and ready to launch a sky armada of 3,627 planes.

The biggest force would be allocated to the Pacific where a combat force of 176 warships is planned. The Atlantic detachment would muster 142 men-of-war.

The Pacific and Atlantic fleets will be sub-divided into half a dozen or more units, active, ready reserve, laid-up fleets, each with numerical designations.

The program, including the selection of specific ships for active duty, was outlined in the annual report of Secretary of the Navy Forrestal to President Truman. Its effective date was set for completion of demobilization next fall.

Groups Deployed

Here are the Navy plans for the postwar fleets:

Pacific—Nine carriers; nine escort carriers; two 45,000-ton battleships; 20 cruisers; 81 destroyers; 16 destroyer escorts; 39 submarines. In ready reserve—two carriers; three 35,000-ton battleships; eight cruisers; 18 destroyers.

Atlantic—Four carriers; four escort carriers; two 45,000-ton battleships; eight cruisers; 54 destroyers; 20 destroyer escorts; 51 submarines. In ready reserve—three carriers; three 35,000-ton battleships; 10 cruisers; 22 destroyers; four destroyer escorts.

The carrier force in the two fleets includes three of the new, giant 45,000-tonners. Assigned to the Pacific is the Coral Sea; in the Atlantic, the Midway and the Franklin R. Roosevelt.

Planned Parenthood Issues Pamphlet

With knowledge that childbirth and conditions associated with it constitute the third highest contributing cause of death in the United States, the Planned Parenthood Federation of America, 501 Madison avenue, New York 22, N. Y., has just issued a pamphlet listing the simple rules of healthy, normal parenthood. "Planning to Have a Baby?" is designed to help dispel the superstitions, misinformation and old wives' tales which still surround the process of birth.

"Much of the needless waste of human life could be stopped if the truth about conception, birth and abortion were common knowledge," Dr. J. H. J. Upham, former president of the American Medical Association and chairman of the Federation's National Medical Advisory Council, said in commenting on the new pamphlet. "There are Americans who still believe that a knife placed under the bed will cut labor pains, and the fallacy that a nursing mother cannot conceive another child is widespread even among well-educated people. Birth is on of mankind's universal experiences—it is time we all had at least the same understanding of its basic factors that we now have of radar and atomic energy."

Written and illustrated with a light touch, "Planning to Have a Baby?" considers pre-natal and post-natal care, lists what is needed for home or hospital delivery, discusses health and safety rules for working mothers who must remain on the job as long as possible, turns the light of scientific knowledge on the age-old legends of abortive drugs, and offers hope to childless couples who long for children of their own. Included also are quizzes to test a couple's aptitude for parenthood and their exact knowledge of family planning.

"There is a right and wrong way to do everything, and that applies most particularly to having a baby," says this little booklet which marks the first time that facts about childbirth, child spacing, infertility, and abortion have been brought together in a simple, popularly written form to serve as a "guide to help women find the right way to do the most important single job of their life—have a healthy baby, safely."

Copies of "Planning to Have a Baby?" being received, according to the Federation, by physicians, public health clinics, educators and health and welfare agencies as a material aid to the national goal of an increased number of vigorous babies are available from the Medical Department of the Federation at ten cents each.

Bride Ship Due Sunday
About the S.S. Queen Mary, Feb. 7 (AP)—This war-stripped luxury liner, carrying English wives and babies to American husbands and fathers, is due to dock in New York at about noon (E.S.T.) Sunday. She had been scheduled to reach New York on Saturday, but the master, Capt. C. G. Illingsworth, ordered the speed reduced to alleviate seasickness which afflicted many of the 1,700 wives and 651 children aboard.

The birth rate in the United States has decreased during the past 150 years from 55 per thousand population to less than 20.

Keystone Democrats Are In Favor of Harrison

Harrisburg, Pa., Feb. 7 (AP)—The name of Earl G. Harrison, dean of the University of Pennsylvania Law School, was being given "extra" consideration by Keystone State Democrats for the gubernatorial nomination as a score of party leaders gathered for discussion of a 1946 slate.

Harrison is one of five persons mentioned so far for governor on the Democratic ticket. The others are Judge Curtis Bok, of Philadelphia, State Auditor General G. Harold Wagner, Federal Judge Guy K. Eard, and Congressman Francis Walter, of Easton.

One prominent Democrat, who preferred to remain anonymous, said some of the party's top leaders have been reported "inclined" to Harrison, adding "we don't want a run-of-the-mine candidate for governor."

State Chairman J. Warren Mickle, who called the party conference, said a number of letters and telegrams endorsing specific candidates have been received at state headquarters and all will be studied by the conference. He declined to say whom the message favored.

Police Report 3 Women Fall on Ice Walks Here

Auto Accidents Are Recorded Despite Bad Driving Conditions

Three women suffered falls on icy walks Wednesday in Kingston, one sustaining a broken leg, another an injured arm while the third escaped with a shaking up, according to reports of police officers filed with police headquarters.

Although the streets and sidewalks were a glare of ice yesterday, no automobile accidents in which persons were injured, were reported in the city.

Today Kingstonians continued to walk in slippery places, although conditions were considerably improved since yesterday.

Injured Her Arm

Mrs. Jacob Molloy of 104 Main street, suffered an injured arm at 3:25 o'clock Wednesday afternoon in a fall at Wall and John streets.

It was reported by Officer Joseph Fallon, while Mrs. Catherine Bulley of Shokan, was shaken up in a fall on the sidewalk on North Front street, according to Officer James Burns.

Suffered Broken Leg
Eva Gardner of 65 Gage street suffered a broken leg early yesterday morning in a fall on that street, and is a patient in the Kingston Hospital, according to a report filed by Officers Clarence Brophy and James Cullum, who had her removed to the hospital in the corner ambulance.

Rain fell intermittently yesterday, and early that evening there was a heavy fall in the city. Temperatures, however, did not drop to freezing.

Temperatures
The highest temperature yesterday was 45 degrees at 10 o'clock last night, according to the reading of the official thermometer at the city hall. The lowest point reached yesterday was during the early morning hours when 27 degrees was recorded.

This morning at 3 o'clock the official thermometer was registering 33 degrees, while at 8:30 o'clock the mercury stood at 36 degrees.

Rafalowsky Urges Better Support for Church

H. G. Rafalowsky, chairman for the drive to raise $3,500 for benefit of the Franklin Street A.M.E. Zion Church, pleads for a more general and generous response to the appeals that have been sent out. He says that from over 600 letters asking for contributions to the fund there has been only about 25 per cent response up to date.

Members of the committee, which includes some of the most prominent members of the clergy, professional and business men, were given personal solicitation cards at the committee meeting Monday night, but because of the weather have been unable to make much headway.

It was hoped to close the drive this week, but Mr. Rafalowsky said, unless there is a much better response the remainder of the week it will be necessary to hold it over.

All who have received appeals for this fund, as well as others, are urged to send in contributions at once to Harold V. Clayton, who is acting as treasurer for the committee.

Jap Generals Irked By Yamashita Verdict

Tokyo, Feb. 7 (AP)—Two top ranking Japanese generals today termed the sentencing of Lt. Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita to be hanged in disgrace "brutal."

Lt. Gen. Yoshio Kozuki said that execution of General MacArthur's order that Yamashita be stripped of all military trappings for the gallows would have "a deep effect upon the Japanese people" but they would accept the verdict without trouble "owing to the situation."

However, Lt. Gen. Mamoru Hara, next highest ranking officer in that ministry, said there might be demonstrations. He speculated that the people might consider that the verdict "carried things too far."

Tony Mack, Newburgh Comet, Rides Again!

A new rookie sensation exploded like a comet from Newburgh's bowling firmament about 10 years ago. His name was Tony Mack and in the short space of a week registered three perfect scores of 300—all in open play—in a feat unparalleled in Hudson Valley bowling annals.

The rookie star of 30 years ago, with an Army hitch behind him, exploded again Monday night in the Newburgh Classic League. He powdered a sizzling 731 triple as the Strocks set an all-time Newburgh classic record with 3217. Incidentally, this is one of the highest totals ever recorded in Hudson valley competition.

WAS UNKNOWN BEFORE RECORD BREAKING BLAST

Mack was an unknown in Hudson Valley circles before the week in which he smashed three 300s and a flock of 279s and 280s, including a big 800 series in open play. He knocked out those big totals on the old Broadway drives in the Hill City.

Tony rolled 25 strikes in 30 frames in his 731 on games of 253, 230 and 248. A 10-pin tap robbed him of a chance to beat his own all-time Newburgh high of 751. Pat Tarsio, another curve ball artist, is runner-up to Mack with 710.

JOE CERVONI CONKS 682

Joe Cervoni, the unorthodox knogler who winds upon his right foot, and always manages to do all right, supplied 682 in the Strocks series. The team games were 1000, 1083 and 1043.

The boxscore:

Newburgh Strocks (3)
Jim Rogers	210 222 168
Joe Cervoni	230 236 256
Lee Cohen	173 211 200
Red Larson	134 185 211
Tony Mack	253 230 248
Totals	100 1084 1043

Better Bowling By Billy Sixty

THE HIP STOP: A par shooting golfer friend of mine, new to bowling, has been trying to apply right hip turn (pivot) in delivering the bowling ball. The pivot—turning the right hip into the shot as the ball is hit—is a potent factor in golf, true enough but it is definitely not the thing to do in bowling.

In golf the ball is hit from a stationary position and power is attained in the swing by "winding up the body." Bowling is done, of course, with footwork—a forward stride of five, four or three steps to the foul line, the object being to co-ordinate the swinging ball with the stride. It must all be done smoothly, and it is of great importance that the hips are given NO INTENTIONAL TURNS from the time the stance is taken through the delivery of the ball.

The body during the stride to the line (footwork) must be in a STRAIGHT LINE if the ball is to be sent toward the pins along a desired and unchanging course. The only turn of the shoulders and hips is done naturally by the swinging weight of the 16 pound (or less) ball.

When the ball is swung correctly in rhythm with the stride, the right hip actually STOPS COMPLETING as the weight of the body settles on the left foot in taking the final step in the stride. The right hip stops and allows the ball to swing on through, as the sketch illustrates. The arm follows straight on out toward the pins and the delivery is then fully controlled.

Acc Yankee Infielder Cites Kingston as Exceptional Town for Baseball

Sandlot baseball is still the foundation of the national pastime, George Stirnweiss, famous New York Yankee second baseman, told an interested audience at last night's prize presentation ceremonies of the Kingston Athletic Association at the Y.M.C.A.

The American League's batting champion and most valuable player for 1945, was the principal guest of the K.A.A., along with Don Savage third sacker, and Al Cucinello, brother of the Chicago White Sox's famous Tony. Judge Bernard "Bud" Culliton, one of Kingston's all-time baseball greats, shared speaking honors with the three big leaguers.

Mayor William F. Edelmut, one of the staunch supporters of the K.A.A. movement, paid tribute to the organization and pledged his support to the perpetuation of the sports group.

Davitt Is M. C.

Tommy Davitt, veteran baseball star, was the master of ceremonies, while Dick McCarthy, W.K.N.Y. Sportscaster, shared in the emceeing. Inclement weather reduced the attendance, but a fairly large crowd was on hand for the show.

The appearance of Stirnweiss, Cucinello and Savage was made possible by Fred Davi, former Kingston baseball pilot, who achieved considerable publicity last year as manager of the Watervliet Brasscos, one of the nation's topflight semi-pro organizations.

Citing Kingston as an exceptional baseball town and boasting a municipal stadium unequalled in cities of this size, Stirnweiss urged careful supervision of the game. He recommended organization of various leagues and said that the "Y" team and "big game" idea in a small town was still the greatest stimulus for promotion of baseball.

Urges Definite Choice

Judge Culliton, who with the late Jack Robins formed Kingston's greatest baseball battery, delivered an impressive address directed at the young players in the audience. The ex-pirate hurler was of the opinion that baseball players had to make a choice early in their career.

If they chose baseball as a recreation, they would get little else from it, he said. If they made baseball a career, he added, they should like the game intensely and be willing to devote the tedious hours of practice, thought and playing big time baseball demanded.

Baseball naturally who achieved the heights without hard work were rare, he concluded. Don Savage and Al Cucinello regaled the audience with a few stories. Others who spoke were Lou Shafer, physical director of the Y; Dr. Francis J. O'Connor, president of the Kingston Athletic Association.

Movies of the 1945 World Series games completed the program.

Smith Makes Award

Warren Smith, who has been one of the most active members of the Kingston Athletic Association in planning last night's affair, personally presented the awards to the individual members of last year's winning ball clubs. Later, Mr. Smith introduced Johnny Prunelli, local arbiter, and on behalf of the K.A.A., made a special presentation to him.

Following are the members of the Longhorn Park Club, winners of the Park League title, who were honored: Bill Glaser, captain; George Glaser, Richard D. H. Williams, Crosby, Ronald Boyce, Bob Gorsline, Jack Ostrander, Frank Elberhauser, Leo Bechtold, Frank Embree and Jack Campbell.

Players of the American Legion team, champs of the City League crown, receiving awards from Warren Smith were: Manager Jim Frelegh, Jimmy Turk, captain; Paul Misove, Tommy Spade, Ed Minasian, "Bing" Van Etten, Charlie Cook, Joe Benjamin, "Sonny" Barnes, Bill Thomas, Bob Gorsline and Bob Righmeyer.

Those who were responsible for the "Baseball Night" program were Dr. Francis J. O'Connor, president of the Kingston Athletic Association; Tommy Davitt, Fred Davi, Warren Smith, Joe Kelly and Dick McCarthy.

Rockets Sign Lister

Chicago, Feb. 7 (AP)—Jack Lister, 24, former star end at the University of Missouri yesterday became the 36th football player to sign a contract with the Chicago Rockets of the All-America Conference. Lister, a lieutenant in the Navy, played with the College All-Stars in 1943 when the collegians defeated the Washington Redskins.

Close Battle for Money

Aradisa, Calif., Feb. 7 (AP)—A close three-way battle for money-winning leadership involves Louis B. Mayer, Charles S. Howard and Mrs. Ada L. Rice as the 35-day Santa Anita meeting nears the halfway mark. In the first 25 days, Mayer's horses won $68,130, Howard's took $67,745, and Mrs. Rice's Chicago stable accounted for $67,175 in purses.

Spring Training Listed

Syracuse, N. Y., Feb. 7 (AP)—Syracuse University's gridgers will start outdoor practice about the middle of April, Clarence (Biggie) Munn, new head coach, said. The early spring session would continue about two weeks. Fall practice will start August 20.

Big Leaguers Honor Local Baseball

Washington, Feb. 7 (AP)—The House today passed 257 to 135 the case bill to curb the practice of seeking settlements of labor disputes by sending the far-reaching control legislation to the Senate. There, its foes predict it will meet tough stalling. Just before the conclusive ballot, members shouted down a motion by Baldwin (R., N. Y.) to send the bill back to the labor committee for further study.

McCord Pays Fine On Hit, Run Charge
As the result of investigation carried on by Corporal William Martin of the Highland State Police, Frank McCord, 53, of Gardiner, was arrested Wednesday night, and admitted having been the driver of a hit-and-run truck that struck the car of Rosario Rizzo of 934 Lafayette street, Brooklyn, at Gardiner, August 14 last. Arraigned before Justice Joseph Deyo of Gardiner, McCord pleaded guilty to the charge of leaving the scene of an accident and was fined $25.
At the time of the accident Rizzo was accompanied by his family, two of whom were injured, and Mrs. Mary Valle of Ozone Park, N. Y., who was the most seriously injured. The car was wrecked.
McCord was arrested Tuesday by State Police of Orange county, on a charge of having on Monday stolen a taxi in Walden. He was held in jail at Newburgh to await the action of the grand jury on that charge. Corporal Martin learned of the arrest and having suspected McCord of being concerned in the accident last August, questioned him and secured a statement. Wednesday, after McCord had obtained bail on the taxi stealing charge, the corporal arrested him on the hit-and-run charge.

Truck Wheel Plunges Into Highland House
One of the dual rear wheels of a tractor-trailer owned by the Fort Nelson Express Co., Stillwater, N. Y., broke loose at 9:15 Wednesday night, while being driven south over 9-W, near the monument in Highland, and plunged through the window of the front room in the house of Frank Pampinella on Fair street. The wheel and tire broke the window sash, smashed an inside door and imbedded itself in the wall.
John Weber, 29, of Stillwater, driver of the truck, was unaware of what had happened until below Highland the tire of the remaining wheel went flat. He went back in search of the missing wheel and found the state police also searching for the truck that caused the damage.

Lax Sugar Control Laid To A & P in O.P.A. Suit
New York, Feb. 7 (AP)—The Office of Price Administration charged in federal court today "lax and inadequate control" of sugar distribution in 6,000 stores of the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Co.
The charge was contained in a complaint which asked for a permanent injunction to restrain the firm from allegedly continuing to violate sugar rationing regulations.
The O.P.A. in its complaint said the company was short 51,851,251 pounds of sugar in its allowable inventory as of August 31, 1945.
Callman Gottesman, chief O.P.A. enforcement attorney for this district, said the federal agency did not seek to invoke the usual practice to suspend the A. and P. from the right to deal in sugar until the alleged shortage was made up.
He said, "a suspension action would cause undue hardship to consumers in areas where the A. and P. stores were the only available retail outlet."
Navy Captain Disavows Move to Clear Kimmel
Washington, Feb. 7 (AP)—Naval Capt. A. D. Kramer testified emphatically today that he never joined a campaign designed to clear Rear Admiral Husband E. Kimmel "or anybody else" of Pearl Harbor blame.
Kramer also said it was inconceivable that the high command "framed" the 1941 Pacific fleet commander or any other person to be a scapegoat for the December 7, 1941 disaster.
Rep. Cooper (D., Tenn.) of the Senate-House committee investigating Pearl Harbor posed the questions which brought these replies.
The preceding witness, Capt. L. F. Safford, said he had written Kramer two years ago to line up Admiral William F. Halsey for "the cause" of vindicating Kimmel.

Former Inmate Is Held in Murder Of Police Officer

No Specific Charge Is Filed Against Man
From Clendenin,
W. Virginia

New York, Feb. 7 (AP)—Brooklyn police today held a 24-year-old former reformatory inmate who, Police Capt. George Colgan said, had signed a written statement that he shot and killed Patrolman John West of the Nassau County police last Monday.

Colgan identified the man as Dennis Edmund Dotson, 24, of Clendenin, W. Va., adding no charges had been filed pending further questioning.

The body of the Nassau County policeman was found in his patrol car near Jericho, Long Island.

shortly after he had telephoned the Syoset police station that he was bringing in a car thief suspect. West was shot through the chest.

Makes Statement
Colgan said Dotson's statement read in part:

"I killed him because I knew I was going back for a long stretch.
I shot him with my own gun, a
.38 caliber Smith and Wesson revolver. I had it hidden in my upper vest pocket on the left side.
When I took it out in the patrol car the cop saw me with the gun and he grappled with me. I shot him twice."

Nassau County Police Lt. Louis
Schneider had reported he saw West questioning two men and several women in an automobile a short time before the policeman was found dead. Nassau County police said, however, that only one man was present at the time of the slaying.

Paroled in November

Dotson, who police said was paroled last November from the Elmira, N. Y., reformatory after serving a sentence for stealing an automobile, was captured in a car outside a building in Brooklyn,
Colgan said, describing the events leading to the capture as follows:

Three women approached a police radio car in Brooklyn late yesterday and asked the location of the nearest police station. One of the women, identified by Colgan as Mrs. Margaret Baldomar, was quoted as saying she knew "all about the policeman that was killed in Nassau county," and that she had been in the car stopped by West.

She said she did not know the name of the driver arrested by West but had been introduced to him by her daughter.

The daughter, Gloria, 16, was brought in and after she had been questioned, two detectives were sent to 635 De Kalb avenue, where they arrested Dotson after a struggle.

A youth identified by Colgan as Armando Bartolillo, 19, of New York, who police said was with Dotson when they drove up to the building, was captured in the building after fleeing from detectives.
They said he had entered the building but raced into the cellar when he spotted the detectives who fired three shots at him.

No charge was filed against him.
And Colgan said Dotson in his statement absolved Bartolillo of any connection with West's slay-ing.

Colgan said the pair was released from Elmira reformatory at the same time last year.

Later, Colgan said, detectives found a gun identified as West's in the building's basement.

Delegates from Britain, Uru-committee's recommendations.

Carlos Salasmanca of Bolivia, however, backed Hodgson's sug-be postponed. He also proposed that San Francisco replace New York as the interim site.

Egyptian delegate Mahmoud quarters decision be left until the regular 1947 session, also supported San Francisco for interim headquarters.

He said that according to
"American sources" the land alone would cost $50,000,000, and asked that "the part of the world suffering from starvation" would say

Special Referendum On U.N.O. in Greenwich
Greenwich, Conn., Feb. 7 (AP)—This normally placid Fairfield country town, divided into two factions by its choice as the capital of the United Nations Organization is going to settle the controversy in the old fashioned New England way—by means of a special referendum.
On February 23, the citizens of the sprawling township which includes East Port Chester, Cos Cob, Greenwich and Old Greenwich are "going to take a vote on it."
The "it" that they are going to take a vote on is a referendum which reads:
"Do you favor the location of the United Nations Organization in or near the town of Greenwich?"
The decision to have a referendum was made yesterday following a meeting of town representatives Tuesday night at which it was voted 110 to 55 to oppose the location of the U.N.O. capital in the Greenwich area.
Since the meeting, the pros and cons of the question have been argued all over town.
The town tax lists show that 20,143 are eligible to vote.

Truman Snubs Ickes In Defending Pauley

Washington, Feb. 7 (AP)—President Truman said flatly today he will not withdraw Edwin W. Pauley's nomination as navy undersecretary.

The President said that Interior Secretary Harold L. Ickes had not consulted him in advance concerning his testimony criticizing Pauley but that he did not believe this would change his relationship with Ickes.

He told a news conference he was backing Mr. Pauley and thought he was an honest man and a very capable administrator who did a magnificent job as reparations administrator.
Ickes can very well be mistaken as well as the rest of us, Mr. Truman added.

America to Help Feed 15,000,000

again might be necessary late in the year.
President Truman, in a statement declaring the world faces a food crisis which may be "the worst in modern times," yesterday ordered government agencies to draft emergency rules to cut consumption of wheat at home so that "mass starvation" abroad may be averted.

The cuts in American consumption will take these forms:
Millers will be required to convert a larger portion of each bushel of wheat into flour. This flour will be dark in color, less tasty and less suitable for cakes, pies and other pastries. But it will take fewer bushels of wheat to meet American bread and pastry needs.

No Wheat For Brews
The use of wheat in making whiskey and beer will be forbidden. Also the use of other grains for these beverages will be reduced. There was no immediate indication what effect this will have on current supplies.

Farmers will be asked to feed less wheat and other grains to livestock. Mr. Truman directed the Agriculture Department to develop programs designed to pare down livestock production until grain supplies become plentiful again.

The presidential action was made necessary largely by the fact that Americans—and American livestock—have eaten more wheat since the last harvest than the government had planned. This fact did not become known until recently, however, when a government survey showed stocks to be 61,000,000 bushels below what they should have been.

Early Marketing
The prospective measures to cut animal consumption of wheat and other grains are expected to result in earlier than normal marketing of hogs, cattle and poultry.

This earlier marketing in turn would make market supplies of meats and poultry larger in the weeks and months immediately ahead than if farmers could follow their present practice of holding animals until they had been fattened.

Depends On Crops
But once the animal numbers have been reduced to the size of the smaller feed supply, market supplies of meats and other animal products will decline. Meat production then can be increased again only after grain supplies have been replenished. And improvement in the domestic feed grain supply cannot come before this year's crops are harvested next fall.

That's where the possibility of future meat rationing enters in. A poor crop season would prevent re-expansion of livestock production until the next good feed crop.

In his statement, Mr. Truman called on stores and other distributors to begin informal rationing of foods that may become scarce. Presumably he referred to bread, flour, bakery products, breakfast cereals and other grain products.

New York City Under Emergency

turned off all electrical outdoor heating of transportation systems, were even more stringent than the requirements set for the city during the war.

45 Tugs to Move Supplies
Meanwhile, the Office of Defense Transportation, which seized the 91 tugboat companies operating in New York Harbor and contiguous waters early yesterday, to begin moving fuel supplies into the city today.

The action followed a request by Lawrence C. Turner of the Waterways Transport Division of the O.D.T., acting as federal manager of the properties, that the Army and Navy man the tugboats.

Approximately 3,500 tugboat workers, members of the A.F.L. International Longshoremen's Association's United Marine Division, struck Monday morning in a wage-hour dispute with the New York Tugboat Exchange.

Vote Is 451 to 259
The men voted 451 to 259 yesterday not to return to work.

Capt. William Bradley, president of the I.L.A.'s Marine Division, however, late yesterday voiced opposition to the plan to use Army and Navy tugs.

"There has been too much interference already," he said. "We would like to straighten it out ourselves. I think the men feel that too much pressure is being put on them."

Other union leaders said that an attempt to operate powered fuel barges might lead to serious accidents.

Turner said the purpose of moving ships with Army and Navy tugs was "to try to supply fuel oil and coal to those places greatest in need, placing the tugs where they can do the most good."

O'Dwyer's emergency declaration, made in two proclamations, barred coal deliveries to dance halls, night clubs, theatres and other establishments "not directly related to the public health or safety," and directed that in no event should more than a week's supply of fuel be furnished any consumer.

He also ordered that all interior temperatures be kept no higher than 60 degrees except in buildings devoted to the care of the sick and infirm.

School Strike Ends

St. Louis, Feb. 7 (AP)—A holiday for 60,000 of St. Louis' 90,000 school children was over today with the settlement of a three-day strike of about 400 custodians and matrons which had closed 100 of the 129 public schools here.

Settlement of the strike was announced last night by a committee of the Board of Education and leaders of the A.F.L. Custodians and Matrons' Union. Dr. Herbert O. Winterer, board president, issued a statement, concurred in by union officials, that the strikers would go back to work today with the promise the board would open immediate negotiations on a $20 monthly wage increase demand.

Special Referendum On U.N.O. in Greenwich

Greenwich, Conn., Feb. 7 (AP)—This normally placid Fairfield country town, divided into two factions by its choice as the capital of the United Nations Organization is going to settle the controversy in the old fashioned New England way—by means of a special referendum.

On February 23, the citizens of the sprawling township which includes East Port Chester, Cox Cob, Greenwich and Old Greenwich are "going to take a vote on it."

The "it" that they are going to take a vote on is a referendum which reads:

"Do you favor the location of the United Nations Organization in or near the town of Greenwich?"

The decision to have a referendum was made yesterday following a meeting of town representatives Tuesday night at which it was voted 110 to 55 to oppose the location of the U.N.O. capital in the Greenwich area.

Since the meeting, the pros and cons of the question have been argued all over town.

The town tax lists show that 20,143 are eligible to vote.

Truman Snubs Ickes In Defending Pauley

Washington, Feb. 7 (AP)—President Truman said today he will not withdraw Edwin W. Pauley's nomination as navy under-secretary.

The President said that Interior Secretary Harold I. Ickes had not consulted him in advance concerning his testimony criticizing Pauley but that he did not believe this would change his relationship with Ickes.

He told a news conference he was backing Mr. Pauley and thought he was an honest man and a very capable administrator who did a magnificent job as reparations administrator.

Ickes can very well be mistaken as well as the rest of us, Mr. Truman added.

America to Help Feed 15,000,000

again might be necessary late in the year.

President Truman, in a statement declaring the world faces a food crisis which may be "the worst in modern times," yesterday ordered government agencies to draft emergency rules to cut consumption of wheat at home so that "mass starvation" abroad may be averted.

The cuts in American consumption will take these forms:

Millers will be required to convert a larger portion of each bushel of wheat into flour. This flour will be dark in color, less tasty and less suitable for cakes, pies and other pastries. But it will take fewer bushels of wheat to meet American bread and pastry needs.

No Wheat For Brews
The use of wheat in making whiskey and beer will be forbidden. Also the use of other grains for these beverages will be reduced. There was no immediate indication what effect this will have on current supplies.

Farmers will be asked to feed less wheat and other grains to livestock. Mr. Truman directed the Agriculture Department to develop programs designed to pare down livestock production until grain supplies become plentiful again.

The presidential action was made necessary largely by the fact that Americans—and American livestock—have eaten more wheat since the last harvest than the government had planned. This fact did not become known until recently, however, when a government survey showed stocks to be 61,000,000 bushels below what they should have been.

Early Marketing
The prospective measures to cut animal consumption of wheat and other grains are expected to result in earlier than normal marketing of hogs, cattle and poultry.

This earlier marketing in turn would make market supplies of meats and poultry larger in the weeks and months immediately ahead than if farmers could follow their present practice of holding animals until they had been fattened.

Depends On Crops
But once the animal numbers have been reduced to the size of the smaller feed supply, market supplies of meats and other animal products will decline. Meat production then can be increased again only after grain supplies have been replenished. And improvement in the domestic feed grain supply cannot come before this year's crops are harvested next fall.

That's where the possibility of future meat rationing enters in. A poor crop season would prevent re-expansion of livestock production until the next good feed crop.

In his statement, Mr. Truman called on stores and other distributors to begin internal rationing of foods that may become scarce. Presumably he referred to bread, flour, bakery products, breakfast cereals and other grain products.

Underwriters' Meeting
The Mid-Hudson Life Underwriters' Association will hold a dinner meeting at the Governor Clinton Hotel this evening at 6:30. The guest speaker will be Edgar B. Clark, former president of the Albany association.

45 Tugs to Move Supplies
Meanwhile, the Office of Defense Transportation, which seized the 91 tugboat companies operating in New York Harbor and contiguous waters early yesterday, ordered 45 Army and Navy tugs to begin moving fuel supplies into the city today.

The action followed a request by Lawrence C. Turner of the Waterways Transport Division of the O.D.T., acting as federal manager of the properties, that the Army and Navy man the tugboats.

Approximately 3,500 tugboat workers, members of the A.F.L. International Longshoremen's Association's United Marine Division, struck Monday morning in a wage-hour dispute with the New York Tugboat Exchange.

Vote Is 451 to 259
The men voted 451 to 259 yesterday not to return to work.

Capt. William Bradley, president of the I.L.A.'s Marine Division, however, late yesterday voiced opposition to the plan to use Army and Navy tugs.

"There has been too much interference already," he said. "We would like to straighten it out ourselves. I think the men feel that too much pressure is being put on them."

Other union leaders said that an attempt to operate powered fuel barges might lead to serious accidents.

Turner said the purpose of moving ships with Army and Navy tugs was "to try to supply fuel oil and coal to those places greatest in need, placing the tugs where they can do the most good."

O'Dwyer's emergency declaration, made in two proclamations, barred coal deliveries to dance halls, night clubs, theatres and other establishments "not directly related to the public health or safety," and directed that in no event should more than a week's supply of fuel be furnished any consumer.

He also ordered that all interior temperatures be kept no higher than 60 degrees except in buildings devoted to the care of the sick and infirm.
